Through the interplay of signs and symbols of her own making, Françoise Bertsch seeks to capture the essential rhuthms of nature: the vibrations of light and the paths taken by sap and time. Very early on, she moved beyond figurative elements, venturing into the interior world of lines, symbols and intuition that makes us each unique but also connects us to the immense flow of existence. A world where shapes and colors are arranged according to each painter's unique ballet of instincts, dreams and myths.

Obvious joy at pursuing one's own truths, but also a struggle to avoid that gaping chasm: the constant threat of nothingness, against which one of the surest weapons is to create.

DOMAINE LANDRAT GUYOLLOT - Les Berthiers - Saint-Andelain

Issue d'une sélection parcellaire sur Argiles à Silex, ce vin de gastronomie - sur la complexité, la longueur et l'équilibre - est produit exclusivement dans les meilleurs millésimes. Pépite extraite d'un terroir constitué de fossiles silicifiés, de dragées de quartz et de silex de différentes tailles, appelés « chailles » ou « chailloux » en vieux français, notre Gemme de Feu exude les facettes aromatiques de sa terre originelle : « Robe cristalline. Nez riche, entre minéralité, fruits exotiques, fleurs, épices. Un Pouilly racé, opulent, possédant matière étoffée et charnue, fruits intenses et typés, fraîcheur et longueur. Rien que du plaisir!

This terroir-driven, gastronomic wine comes from a plot of clay with flints. It is produced only in outstanding vintages and shows complexity, length, together with a perfect balance. Like a nugget this little gem was extracted out of a terroir made up of siliceous fossiles, quartz, and flint pebbles of different sizes, so-called 'chailles' or 'chailloux' in Old French. Our 'Gemme de Feu' exudes the many-faceted aromas of its original earth: 'Crystalline hue. Rich nose intermixing minerality, tropical fruit, flower and spice aromas. A racy, full-bodied Pouilly boasting a full, fleshy mouthfeel, intense, distinctive fruit aromas, freshness and length. Sheer pleasure.
